

False Tips Hamper Hunt For Escaped Convicts In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—A series of false tips in this nervous city slowed cautious police efforts today to track down the two remaining fugitives from Saturday's 13-man Southern Michigan Prison break.

One of the escapes still at large was Roman Usiondek, convicted murderer and criminal psychopath, known to be dangerous. The other, Robert Dowling, is a convicted burglar.

A phoned, anonymous tip Monday night that Usiondek was in a dingy southwest section hotel, sent police through a careful but fruitless search.

Trio Watching TV
Still another tip last night electrified the police network in the southwest area where yesterday three of the escapees were trapped in a small frame house and captured without a fight.

But the tip, unlike the earlier one to a Detroit newspaperman that led to the capture of the trio, was evidently groundless.

The earlier tip came through Ray Girardin, veteran reporter of the Detroit Times, who was approached by an unidentified man with the information that the three escaped convicts were hiding in the home of Joseph Rocco, an ex-convict.

Police found Daniel B. Bousha, 28, Edward J. Emrick, 43, and Virgil Lane, 27, watching television in the home. They gave up without a fight.

The three were part of the gang that crept through a sewer, and cut the grates at the open end to escape from the gigantic prison.

Swears Vengeance
Police also held Rocco and Irvin Sullivan of Detroit for investigation of harboring fugitives.

Rocco, paroled in 1937 from Southern Michigan Prison, said he had met Emrick while at the prison. But all three of the escapees entered his home Sunday night. They were there, Rocco said, when he came home from work.

He added that the three refused to leave or let him, his wife or Irvin Sullivan, who was visiting the Rocco home, leave.

Usiondek has repeatedly sworn vengeance on the witnesses and prosecutor at the 1943 trial where he drew a life sentence for the slaying of a bar owner.

Circuit Court Commissioner A. Tom Pasieczny, then special prosecutor in Usiondek's trial, has been taken from the city in an effort to protect him.

Usiondek was described by a former high school friend as a dandified bully who pulled on a pair of pigskin gloves before fighting so he wouldn't soil his hands.

Of the original 13 that escaped, six were captured shortly after the breakout in a shooting chase with state police when their stolen car turned over. Two others were flushed from small Jackson hotels.

Two Leave Party
The trio caught yesterday and the two escapees still at large were the carload of five who stole a Cadillac and took two women

Jackson Prison Breaks Blamed On Money Pinch

JACKSON (AP)—"Lack of money and personnel" are blamed by the State Corrections Commission for the 13-man breakout at Southern Michigan Prison Saturday.

Dr. Jesse J. McNeil, chairman of the commission, said he would make a personal report to Gov. Williams that those were the primary reasons for the break.

McNeil, with commission members Talbot Smith of Ann Arbor and Miss Elenore Hutzel, Detroit, met late Monday to hear reports from Acting Corrections Director Gus Harrison and prison Warden William H. Bannan.

Harrison said the prisoners' skillful planning and blind luck combined with prison laxity to make the break possible. Bannan said he would assume the blame for the "laxity."

"If you are going to discipline anyone for negligence, I suppose that I am the negligent. But I can't watch the power plant all my time and I haven't had the additional personnel we feel is necessary," he said.

Smith said: "We have expert after expert investigate the prison, and they tell us we need more people. Then some people say, 'No, you don't need more people.'"

The Legislature turned down a request by Bannan for more funds last session. The request has been repeated in this year's budget requests, Bannan said.

Railroad Replaces Little Boy's Dog Killed By Train

DESOTO, Mo. (AP)—Little Jamesy Ross and his brothers and sisters are going to get another dog Wednesday to take the place of Butchie, who Jamesy says was "the best dog in the whole world."

Butchie, just about as old as 5-year-old Jamesy, was killed by a Missouri Pacific Railroad train.

Jamesy and Butchie had set out with Jamesy's two older brothers and two older sisters to gather hickory nuts Nov. 21. On the way back, Butchie—a dachshund—was struck by a train when his short legs failed to carry him to safety.

That night, Mrs. Fred A. Ross, hoping to "fill this emptiness" and "make the hearts of these children happy again," wrote a letter to P. J. Neff, chief executive officer of the Mo-Pac lines.

The note began: "Dear sir: 'I'm not much given to writing letters and doubt if this one will go any further than your secretary but I hope so.'"

"I know when an animal of value is killed on your railroad you are usually sued for money but this is not the case in this incident."

Wednesday, Jamesy and his brothers and sisters are going to meet Mo-Pac Train No. 3 at the Desoto station.

They'll receive a gift from the railroad—a pedigreed dachshund pup.

Russians Take Long Time Just To Say 'Maybe'

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—If the Russians ever answer an invitation with a simple "yes" it will probably be the tipoff they've changed. It has just taken them 3,000 words to say "maybe."

It was in reply to President Eisenhower's suggestion that this country, the Soviets and others sit down and talk and try to agree on a plan for using some of their atomic materials for peaceful purposes.

Old Hedging Again
The Russians said, or they seemed to say, they would talk. But they hedged.

From the end of World War II until now this country and Russia have been deadlocked on banning atomic weapons.

When Eisenhower addressed the United Nations Dec. 8 he proposed: Let us talk about how to use some of our atomic materials for the good of mankind; if we can agree on that, maybe we can then go on and eventually agree on the bomb.

The reaction everywhere in the world, except behind the Iron Curtain, was favorable.

The first response from Moscow was the blast of a radio announcer who accused the President of threatening Russia.

World Reaction Sour
Talk wouldn't cost the Russians a dime. Refusing to talk would cost them plenty in world opinion.

Sleeping Pills Fatal To Night Club Singer In Second Attempt

NEW YORK (AP)—Aileen Riley, at the end of a night club and television singing career, Monday took an overdose of sleeping pills for the second time in seven years.

Her body, clad in red pajamas, was found in her Greenwich Village apartment with this farewell note:

"There's no use going on. Things are not working out. There's no hope for the future."

Police listed the death as an apparent suicide and said that just seven years ago this month she had taken an overdose of similar tablets in a suicide pact with her elderly mother. The mother died but Miss Riley, then 37, recovered.

Bank books found in the apartment indicated Miss Riley was broke.

College Editors Off For Visit To Russia

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The editor of the Minnesota Daily, University of Minnesota student newspaper, left for Washington Monday night where he said he and nine other student editors would seek passports to visit Russia.

Dean Schoelkopf, son of Harold Schoelkopf, editor of the St. Cloud (Minn.) Daily Times, said the Russian Embassy in Washington had granted the visas.

The group plans to leave by plane from New York Thursday or Friday.

Midwest Region In Icy Grip Of Snow And Frigid Weather

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Bitter cold and snow rolling down from the Canadian Arctic ushered winter into the midcontinent area and began spreading eastward today.

Blizzard-like conditions in Kansas, Missouri and parts of Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin snarled traffic, harassed travelers and gave some school children an early start on Christmas vacations.

Mercury 22 Below
At least two persons were killed in accidents attributed to the weather.

The storm hit Monday on the first day of winter, dropping more than half a foot of snow into Kansas City and up to 17 inches in the Colorado mountains.

The mercury dipped to 22 below zero at Fraser, on a Colorado mountain plateau west of the Continental Divide—summer fishing spot for President Eisenhower.

By mid-morning the boundary of the cold zone was given by the U. S. Weather Bureau as along the Continental Divide in the West, through southern Texas and Louisiana and up the Mississippi Valley through southwestern Indiana to Detroit.

Snow Moves Eastward
The cold air was centered over the western Dakotas and eastern Montana and the zone was spreading through the eastern Great Lakes region where the snow was turning to rain. The weatherman said the cold would reach the East Coast by Wednesday afternoon and extend southward into the northern part of the Florida peninsula. A north blow into the Gulf of Mexico today, causing small craft warnings along the coast and locking the northern half of Texas in sub-freezing temperatures. Winds of from 50 to 60 miles an hour accompanied snow flurries in the mountain areas of Western Texas.

(By The Associated Press)
Heavy snow and cold hit Michigan today—with winter not 24 hours old.

The weatherman reported four to six inches of snow might be expected in southern Michigan before tonight.

Battle Creek, Lansing, Grand Rapids and Jackson reported from two to five inches of snow had fallen by noon and it was "still going strong."

Traffic in the four-city area was crawling. Almost 40 cars were reported stalled on US12, seven miles east of Battle Creek.

Military Strategist Advises U.S. To Move Troops Out Of Japan

EDITOR'S NOTE—Vic Suzuki of the Associated Press Tokyo bureau obtained the following exclusive interview with Masanobu Tsuji, one of Japan's top military brains. Tsuji, who is not considered basically anti-American, is a national hero.

By VIC SUZUKI

TOKYO (AP)—Masanobu Tsuji, one of Japan's most brilliant military strategists in World War II, today warned the United States to pull its troops out of Japan as soon as possible or "the day will come when she will regret it."

He also warned "a strong anti-American feeling prevails and is increasing in this country."

Tsuji devised the strategy behind Japan's lightning invasion of Malaya and the capture of Singapore in late 1941 and 1942.

Warning Sent Nixon
He was listed as a war criminal by the Allied command, but was never captured. He has become a national hero and a living legend since the end of the occupation.

He speaks for the nationalists and has sharply criticized occupation policies, although he is not considered basically anti-American.

An influential member of Japan's lower house, he said today he has sent a letter to Vice President Richard Nixon warning against American policy toward Japan.

He said the United States should: 1. Withdraw her troops from Japan and not compel this country to rearm.

2. Admit the war crimes trials were a mistake.

3. Say what it expects to gain by mutual security administration aid to Japan.

4. Reconsider and revise its policy toward Asian countries.

Rebuilding Hindered
"If the United States withdraws her troops from Japan this country will at once buckle down to prepare for any aggressive acts by the Communists," Tsuji said.

"The keeping of foreign troops in the country is, in fact, hindering the rebuilding of our defense forces."

He pointed out that America wants a Japanese army of 325,000 men whereas Japan had only 230,000 men under arms at the time of the Manchurian incident in 1932.

"If Japan could wage an aggressive war with 230,000 men, why does she need 325,000 men to defend the islands?" he asked.

He told this reporter Nixon was incorrect when he said he could find no anti-American feeling in Japan during his recent visit.

"Unless we were barbarians," Tsuji said, "we would not give a state visitor the impression we disliked his country."

He said the Reds sought to drive a wedge between the United States and India by creating an impression that the United States "does not like India."

He said he is sure that, even if no peace conference is arranged, there will be no shooting again in Korea.

The Reds do not want it because they "took a terrific beating," he said, and both the United Nations allies and South Korea, which had threatened to go it alone, are determined to abide by the armistice agreement.

Dean's public report came after he met at the White House Monday with President Eisenhower.

New York Cop To Boss Racing
NEW YORK (AP)—George P. Monaghan, a top cop and veteran crime prober, is now the "iron hand" czar of the quarter-billion dollar harness racing sport in New York State.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Monday cut across party lines to name Democrat Monaghan, his longtime friend, to the new post of bossing the affairs of the eight trotting associations which operate at seven tracks.

Monaghan, who has been New York City's police commissioner since 1951, sat in at the press conference as Dewey made the announcement, declared cleaning up harness racing "presents a great challenge x x x that I readily accept."

Dewey said that enabling legislation to give Monaghan a title other than the temporary "czar" designation and to fix his salary would be asked when the Legislature convenes.

The governor said that existing laws controlling trotting are inadequate and pledged that if Monaghan "ever needs more power I will undertake to get it for him."

County Officer Gets Pay Raise, Then Quits
ALLEGAN, Mich. (AP)—After the Allegan County Board of Supervisors increased his duties, gave him a $2,500-a-year stenographer, then kept his own salary at $2,100 a year, Guy Tee, friend of the court and probation officer, quit.

Secretary Dulles Calls Moscow's Attitude Hopeful

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomatic officials said today the United States would move cautiously in meeting Russia's professed readiness to talk about the Eisenhower proposal for a pool of atomic materials for peace.

Secretary of State Dulles said Monday of Moscow's reply, "This is hopeful."

President Eisenhower, who broached the peaceful-uses atomic plan in a widely acclaimed United Nations speech Dec. 8, had no comment on Russia's reply.

Statement Monday
Among members of Congress in Washington, the consensus was hopeful but cautious.

Dulles clearly foreshadowed in a formal statement Monday a move by the United States to provide the "necessary explanation" Russia requested about Eisenhower's proposal.

At the same time, Dulles emphasized Russia "seems not to have caught the spirit of the President's proposal," as evidenced by outspoken criticism in the Soviet note of some of Eisenhower's speech.

After careful study of Russia's response, some ranking diplomats were a little less optimistic than they had been at first glance about prospects for negotiations.

Inspection Opposed
For example, some officials noted the Russians at least 20 times vigorously restated their long-standing demand for pledges of an outright ban of atomic and hydrogen weapons as part of Eisenhower's plan.

The United States and Russia have been at loggerheads for years on the mechanics of banning atomic weapons.

The American position has been that any ban must be preceded by creation of an international inspection system to enforce the agreement. Russia has held out for outright prohibition of atomic weapons at the outset and she has resisted the inspection proposal.

"It is necessary that not some part but the whole mass of atomic material be directed completely to peaceful aims," the Soviet note said at one point.

The President's U. N. speech, Moscow contended, bypassed this objective. The note said acceptance of the President's plan "would serve to lessen the vigilance of the peoples regarding the problems of atomic weapons but would not facilitate the lessening of the real threat of atomic war."

Wording Is Tricky
American officials who deal with Russia described Moscow's latest note as a skillfully written message. But they noted that it reflected no basic change in Russia's seven-year-old atomic policy.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said he is confident Congress would approve a U.S.-Russian swap of information on peacetime uses of atomic energy only if assured of the Soviet Union's good faith.

Ferguson, chairman of the GOP Senate Policy Committee, also ruled out any international ban on atomic and hydrogen weapons without an "ironclad agreement of inspection" of producing facilities.

Mercy Slayer Free On Parole
LANSING (AP)—William R. Jones, 63, of Detroit, sentenced July 17, for the "mercy killing" of his wife, today was freed on parole.

The State Parole Board said it took into consideration the strong recommendations of Circuit Judge Clyde Webster of Detroit, the sentencing judge, for leniency in releasing Jones only five months after he entered prison.

Jones freely confessed he had electrocuted his wife in a suicide pact which was foiled when his brother-in-law intervened as Jones tried to hang himself.

The wife had been in poor health for many years. Both legs had been amputated. They had been married 41 years.

Jones was sentenced to from one year and a day to five years. The judge said at the time that it was "the most unusual murder case in the country."

ALLEGAN, Mich. (AP)—After the Allegan County Board of Supervisors increased his duties, gave him a $2,500-a-year stenographer, then kept his own salary at $2,100 a year, Guy Tee, friend of the court and probation officer, quit.

Brake Says He's Not Opposed To Straits Bridge

LANSING (AP)—Is State Treasurer D. Hale Brake an opponent of the Straits of Mackinac bridge, as apparently, many northern Michigan folks believe?

Brake declared today he is not, that he has always favored the bridge, that he has worked for it and that all he objected to was the presently proposed system of financing it.

The state treasurer, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, made public today his reply to a telegram from the Cheboygan Kiwanis Club. The club criticized Brake's recent attack on the plan to finance the bridge by revenue bonds, a proposal now under Supreme Court review.

Would Save 64 Million
Brake denied that he was playing politics with the bridge issue, asserting that it would have been politically more popular to be "whooping and hollering" for the revenue bond plan.

Asserting "there has been no question as to the advisability of building the bridge in my mind," Brake said state credit bonds backed by the vote of the people would save the state $64,000,000.

"If it is wrong to wish to save $64,000,000, then I am wrong," he said.

Brake told the Cheboygan group that he had worked to push through the Legislature bills to make the bridge possible and that the Bridge Authority conceded it could not have obtained the bills without his help.

Helped Get $417,000
He said he had sat on several conferences to work out the bridge financing and had gone to New York to help obtain a favorable financing deal.

He said his objections to the revenue bond plan were "not last minute" criticisms, because he had obtained a $417,000 annual appropriation from the Legislature to help finance the bridge on the argument that it would keep interest charges below four per cent.

Brake ended: "The decision having been made, we will all, of course, abide by it and do our best to make the thing successful."

Hawaii Backed For 49th State
WASHINGTON (AP)—Hawaii's chances of becoming the 49th state in the Union looked much better today after Sen. Long (D-La.) announced he is ready to support its bid for admission.

The House last March approved the necessary legislation, but the Senate Interior Committee voted 8-7 to tie the Alaska statehood to the Hawaii bill. The Republican leadership in the Senate was unwilling to press for passage under that arrangement.

Long was one of those on the Interior Committee who voted to link Alaska and Hawaii statehood. However, he told reporters Monday he now is willing to vote to report the bill to the Senate as originally proposed.

House Found Ablaze; Two Babies Perish
LEYDEN, Colo. (AP)—Mrs. Earl Spriggs returned Monday from a neighbor's to find her four-room frame house ablaze. Inside were her two small daughters.

She rushed into the flames and carried 3-month-old Gloria Jean from the building, but too late—the infant was dead from suffocation.

The other daughter, Thyrena May, 2, was burned to death.

Voting In France Still Deadlocked

VERSAILLES, France (AP)—The badly split French Parliament put off until Wednesday its attempts to elect a new president of the republic. Edouard Herriot and Vincent Auriant, two tired old men who insist they don't want the job, led the field of compromise candidates.

Political leaders held a series of fruitless conferences this morning in attempt to break a six-day deadlock. When the Congress met this afternoon to take the 11th ballot since last Thursday, there had been no progress in reaching agreement on a candidate who could get the necessary majority vote.

The next session was put off until 10 a.m. (3 a.m. CST) Wednesday in the hope that during this afternoon and tonight some way could be found to avoid further public embarrassment over failure to pick a president.

Rescuers Sight Wreck Of Plane In Iceland; No Signs Of Life
REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—A rescue party crawled within sight of a wrecked American Navy bomber high atop an Icelandic glacier today and reported finding no signs of life.

Hope faded that any of the nine crew members were still alive. The two-engine patrol bomber crashed last Thursday in a blizzard on Myrdalsjokull glacier near the southeast coast of Iceland.

The Iceland rescue party radioed that survival equipment dropped near the wreck apparently had not been touched.

The party crawled up a steep ice wall with the aid of parachuted supplies only to find that a mighty crevasse still separated it from the plane's wreckage. They could see the wreckage from a distance but had to map a wide detour around the chasm to reach it. They expected to do sometime today.

Escanaba Lions Give TV Set To Home For Aged

The Escanaba Lions Club will purchase a television set for the aged patrons of the Delta Convalescent Home, it was decided at a meeting of the club's board of directors yesterday at the Sherman Hotel.

The gift will include a TV set, tower and antenna. There are 44 patients at the convalescent home. The presentation will be made before Christmas.

The Lions Club also decided to sponsor several special trains to Milwaukee in 1954 for the Milwaukee Braves baseball games. It is planned to charter a train for each trip to accommodate approximately 450 baseball fans. Two or more charters will be arranged during the season, depending upon the public demand.

In other actions by the board of directors, the club voted to contribute $80 to the Boy Scouts for repair of canoes for Red Buck camp and to contribute $15 to the Leader Dog school at Rochester, Mich. A contribution of $50 for the District 10, Lions International, student loan fund also was authorized. This fund provides loans for students at college in the Upper Peninsula and Lions Clubs of the Peninsula make annual contributions to the fund.

Substantial funds for continuing the Lions Club work in sight conservation and for assistance to the blind also were voted.

The club's program is financed from projects sponsored by the club, such as the Golden Gloves, Civic Drama Guild series and similar events, and from membership dues.

New Power Peak:

Electric Use In Escanaba Reaches Record 5,702 KW

Despite curtailment of electricity in Escanaba during the holiday season a new power peak was hit at 6 p. m. yesterday, City Manager A. B. Aronson reported today.

Peak demand at 6 p. m. Monday was 5,702 KW, which will probably be a high for this season, said Harvey Germanson, electric department superintendent.

Last year through the cooperation of the citizens in eliminating outdoor lighting displays the peak was kept to 5,151 KW. This compared to the previous record high of 5,484 KW for the holiday peak in 1951.

Caused By TV Sets?
The annual peak demand in electric power occurs in late December, when the usual load is expanded by holiday lighting and the short days of early winter.

The city administration, at the request of the Upper Michigan Power & Light Company, had appealed to customers to curtail use of electricity so far as possible this month.

"I think the new record set last night is caused by the many new TV sets in the community since last year," said Germanson.

Each set requires about 200 watts of electricity. The number of television sets in Escanaba is not known but has increased rapidly through late fall and early winter.

Correct Overload
Few homes in the city have outdoor holiday lighting and Ludington street Christmas decorations were changed this year to use a minimum of electricity.

In a pre-holiday check of transformers on the city's electric distribution system 33 transformers were found to be overloaded and were replaced with transformers of larger capacity, Germanson said.

The 33 overloads found this year compares to about 5 found last year in the annual load survey. The survey is designed to find and correct overloads that could cause a power failure.

The city of Escanaba purchases electric power wholesale under contract with the Upper Michigan Power & Light Company, subsidiary of Mead Corporation.

Mead Corporation has asked the city to find another power supply and advised the city that Mead will need all of the power it generates to provide power for a proposed expansion of the Escanaba Paper Company operations.

Discuss Contract
Meanwhile the city administration and a power advisory board of citizens appointed by the City Council are studying a proposed 10-year power contract with the Delta-Alger Electric Cooperative Association. The Cooperative would supply the city with "surplus" power if and when the Rural Electrification Administration grants the Cooperative a $6½ million loan to construct a generating plant and expand its distribution system.

The power advisory board in meeting last night at City Hall, with Chairman Todd Gayeff presiding, continued discussions of the proposed contract with the Cooperative. It also considered the possibility of the city constructing a municipal generating plant and discussed comparative rate costs.

Because of the holiday season the power advisory board is not expected to meet again until next month.

Commandery Will Hold Annual Rite Christmas Day
Members of the Escanaba Commandery Knights Templars, will follow a custom carried on through the years and meet at 11 o'clock Christmas morning at the Masonic Temple and carry through a program in keeping with the Christmas season.

A Christmas message will be read by a member of the order's national committee, followed by a response by a message from the national grand master of the organization. Added impressiveness will be given to the occasion by members of the Escanaba Commandery who are out of town and wish to be remembered. Toasts will be presented by local officers and taken up by those present.

All Commandery members, both local and visiting, are asked to be present. The ceremony will take about an hour.

Teacher Fired
CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Board of Education Monday fired "for good and just cause" a 37-year-old teacher who refused to answer questions before the Ohio Un-American Activities Commission.

The board found Edward Likover, an instructor at the Cleveland Trades School, guilty of "conduct unbecoming a teacher."

Curfew To Sound Here On Saturday

Children under 16 years of age will not be allowed to loiter on the streets of Escanaba later than 10 p. m. starting Saturday, Dec. 26. Safety Director Glen S. Leonard announced today.

Starting Saturday the city's curfew ordinance will be enforced as requested by the Escanaba City Council. The curfew ordinance has been on the books since World War II but enforcement was halted several years ago because of complaints that the curfew whistle disturbed people in the area.

The 10 p. m. curfew whistle, which had been removed from the city steam plant, will be replaced there and will be sounded again for the first time at 10 p. m. Saturday.

The curfew applies only to children under 16 years of age who are on the street unaccompanied by parents or guardian.

Children who are picked up by the police for loitering on the streets after 10 p. m. will be taken to the police station and their parents notified to call for them.

SHE HAD IT
OMAHA (AP)—A 53-year-old woman, found by police with her clothes torn, and bruises about the face, told officers her 71-year-old husband was responsible.

Would she bring charges against him?
"No," said the woman after hospital treatment. "I had it coming."

Step Up Fight Against Polio

An increasing incidence of polio in Northern Michigan is being fought with the new weapon, gamma globulin, whose cost is being met by more generous public contributions, it was reported to the Escanaba Rotary Club yesterday by Jon Dahl, Marquette, regional representative for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Dahl noted the "tremendous financial burden" resulting from polio epidemic that hit Delta County in 1952, the year with 167 cases in the U. P. of which 58 were in this county.

Contributions to the March of Dimes in Delta County totaled $12,000, of which approximately one-half was sent to the National Foundation and the remainder retained in the county. Yet by June of this year the local fund was exhausted and the National Foundation made a grant to the county chapter of $13,400.

Local Chairman
"Now the Delta County Chapter has but $1,500 remaining in its treasury—and it just recently received a bill from the children's center at Marquette for $5,800. The figures are cited to show the need in your county and the need for generous contributions to the March of Dimes in 1954," Dahl said.

Dahl announced that he was informed that Barclay Conley and Fred Hanson of Escanaba have accepted chairmanships to conduct the 1954 March of Dimes drive in Delta County.

Total contributions to the March of Dimes this year was $55,000 or 15 per cent higher than the year before, and it is expected that the fund drive will do even better in 1954, Dahl said.

Use Gamma Globulin
Additional funds are needed locally and at the state and national level to carry on a hard-hitting campaign to control polio, using the new gamma globulin vaccine, Dahl reported. Gamma globulin was first used in Northern Michigan this year in Marquette County, where 73 polio cases were reported.

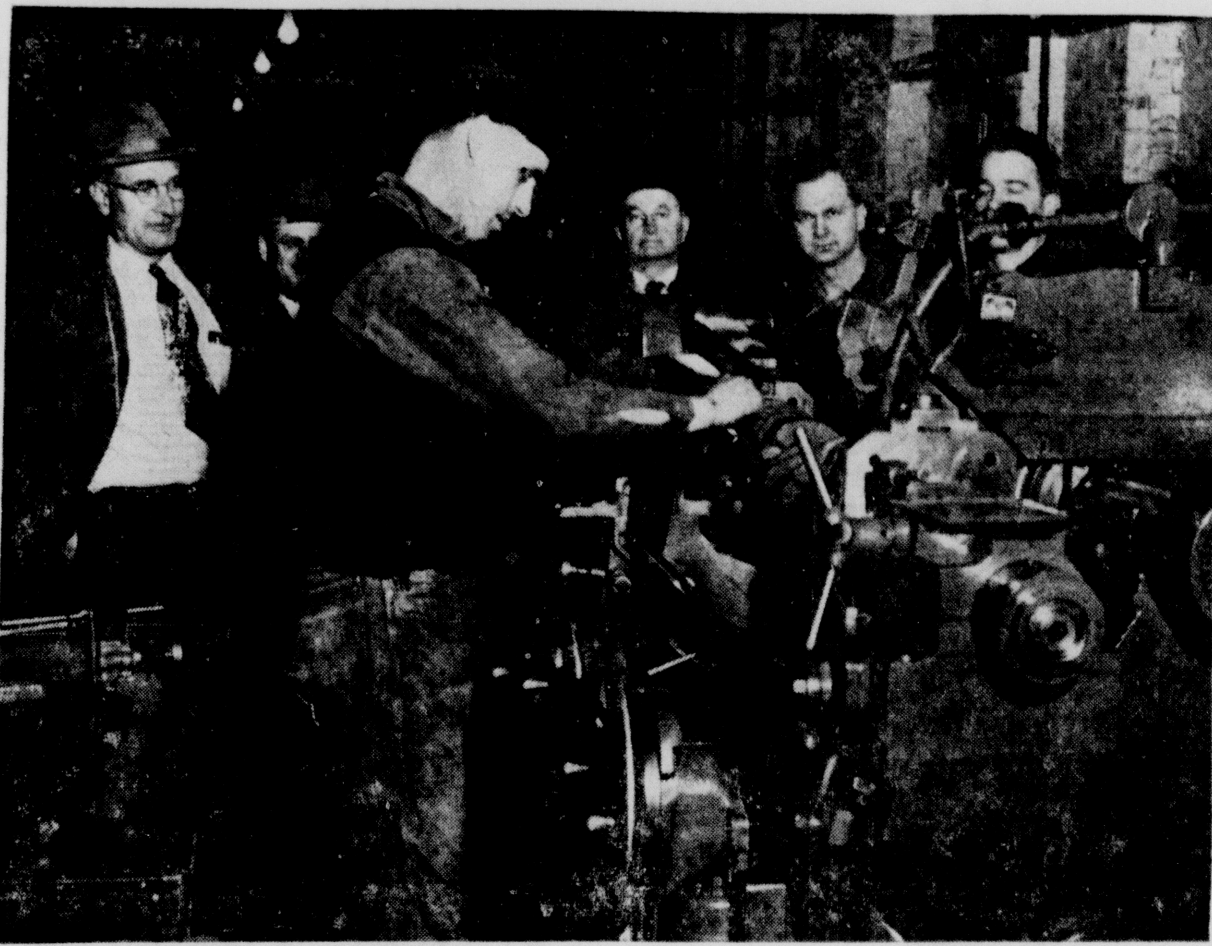

Children age 1 to 9, inclusive, were inoculated to prevent the development of polio of the paralytic type.

Wider use of the vaccine is scheduled for 1954, perhaps in five Michigan counties. Michigan is this year in 7th place in the nation in the incidence of polio.

Volunteer Help
The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis expects an increase of about $19 million, or 50 per cent, in the cost of polio prevention next year because of the planned use of more gamma globulin vaccine, he reported.

Commenting on the cost of fund raising for the March of Dimes, Dahl said that less than 5 cents of each $1 goes for that purpose in the Upper Peninsula. Expenses are kept to an "absolute minimum" and the National Foundation has but seven employees in the state of Michigan.

Volunteers in each county, who serve without salary and often at some cost to themselves, carry out the program through local chapters. Dahl was introduced at the Rotary Club luncheon meet-

Bark River Girl Honored For Work In Church And 4-H

Miss Patricia Bolm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bolm of Bark River received the God-Home-Country Award at the Sunday Services of the Salem Lutheran Church at Bark River.

The award is made for outstanding service to the Church and 4-H Club. It is the first award of its kind to a Delta county 4-H member and the first in the Superior Conference of the Lutheran Church.

Miss Bolm was presented to the congregation by Fred Bernhardt, County 4-H Club agent, who read the citation for the award. The Rev. Phillip Lindholm, church pastor, made the presentation of the award and Mrs. Bolm pinned it on her daughter. Members of three of the 4-H Clubs in the Bark River area were special guests at the church service.

The church requirements for this award are that the candidate must give evidence of regular Bible reading and participation in church activities; give evidence of the knowledge of the Catechism, worship details, rural leaders of the Old Testament, and selected parables; and have carried out special projects involving fifty hours or more of service to the church.

The 4-H Club requirements are that the candidate must have completed three years of club work, have been a junior leader for at least one year, and have completed at least one hundred hours of service to the home, club or community.

Miss Bolm is a senior at the Bark River-Harris High school, a Sunday school teacher, and the leader of one of the Bark River 4-H Clubs. She won a Savings Bond in the State 4-H Junior Leader contest and placed second in the State with a 4-H demonstration last summer.

County Jail May Be Empty For Christmas

The only prisoner in the Delta county jail finishes his term on December 24, a matter which prompted Sheriff William E. Miron to express the hope that that institution would be empty for Christmas.

This has been an unusually quiet month as far as crime—petty or serious—is concerned, the sheriff states. Many days during the past few weeks have passed without a single infraction of the law or complaints written on the register. "I hope it keeps up," he said.

Baby Is Locked In; Firemen To Rescue

Escanaba firemen saved the child—but the child did not have to be carried down the ladder.

The baby in the James Buchanan home at 1406 10th Ave. S. yesterday afternoon locked itself in an upstairs bedroom. The mother was unsuccessful in efforts to direct the baby how to unlock the door from the inside.

In desperation, the firemen were called. They hoisted a ladder to the bedroom window, entered, unlocked the door to release the child from its temporary "prison."

TB Detection Increase Can Wipe Out Disease In Michigan

JOHN B. Martin, auditor general, discussed a subject of statewide interest in his most recent news letter, the problem of tuberculosis treatment in Michigan. It is particularly appropriate at this time, we think, because TB seals are sold at Christmas time to help raise funds to combat this ailment.

Martin pointed out that three years ago voters of Michigan approved the expenditure of $5,000,000 for TB hospital construction. This new construction will be completed within the next two years, adding 500 new tuberculosis hospital beds to those now available. The Veterans Administration likewise is providing about 50 additional tuberculosis beds in Michigan.

In the meantime, the case finding rate has remained stationary. The discharge rate for patients cured or whose disease is arrested has increased; the death rate from tuberculosis has sharply decreased. The result, according to Mr. Martin, is some 300 unfiled beds which will materially increase as new construction of hospitals is completed unless the case finding program is stepped up drastically.

The problem would be of small consequence if the unfiled beds actually represent conquest of tuberculosis. The truth is, however, that there are plenty of undetected tuberculosis cases. Many of those who enter our TB hospitals are already in an advanced stage of the disease. And yet we are spending in case finding in Michigan about $1 for each $25 that we spend on treatment, the auditor general reports.

By increasing the expenditure for case finding, the actual detection of tuberculosis cases, we would save millions of dollars in the long run and we would be making a far more effective approach to complete conquest of tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis is an infectious disease. Those who have it but do not know it spread contagion to others. The undetected cases become serious before hospitalization is required and by that time the treatment period must necessarily be long and costly.

The suggestion of Auditor General Martin that we increase the program for detecting tuberculosis as the only hope of conquering the disease makes sense.

America's Watery Highway

DURING the shipping season just closed, Great Lakes vessels toted a record 164 million tons of iron ore, coal and grain. This surpassed by nearly 6 1/2 per cent the previous record year, 1942.

Few Americans appreciate how vital a role these great inland oceans play in the high living standard they enjoy.

When people talk of this country's advantages, they usually think of the abundance of basic resources, the varied and productive climate, the 3000-mile-wide market which allows broad distribution of mass-produced goods.

But cheap transportation has always been a key factor. And our magnificent water highway, stretching from northern Minnesota down to Illinois and across the Midwest to north central New York, is the heart of our transport system.

Were it not for these convenient thoroughfares, carved out long ago by the glaciers that sprawled across upper America, we would pay a lot more for bread, for fuel, for automobiles, for houses, for all the things made from steel.

Questions and Answers

Q—How many House seats are in "doubtful" or "marginal" category?

A—According to a recent Congressional Quarterly survey, 167 House seats are in these two categories, on the basis of past election results. A "doubtful" district is classified as one in which the winning candidate won by less than 55 per cent of the vote, while "marginal" districts were won by less than 55 per cent of the vote, while "marginal" districts were won by between 55 and 60 per cent. Of 88 doubtful seats won in 1952, 41 are held by Republicans, 45 by Democrats and one by an independent. Seventy-nine marginal seats are held by 55 Republicans and 24 Democrats. In 1952, 25 races were won by less than 5,000 votes—10 by Republicans and 15 by Democrats.

Q—If Hawaii is admitted to the Union, who will decide when her two United States Senators' terms shall expire?

A—The Constitution, Article I provides, that for the first and succeeding Congresses "immediately after (the Senators) shall be assembled . . . they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes," the seats of the first "class" to be vacated after two years, of the second "class" after four years, and of the third "class" after six. Once determined, the class to which each Senate seat is assigned remains fixed. The size of the three classes has been kept roughly equal by adding first to the two smaller or to the smallest class. Since the first Congress, classification has been made by lot, thus setting the expiration of the initial term of Senators from new states. Senators from the same state never are in the same class. Terms of class 2 Senator expire next—in January, 1955.

Q—During World War II I never once heard the word "kiwi" but I was not on duty at any primary flying school. One reason was that in World War II direct commissions went only to qualified men, and the great bulk of administration officers were both well trained and respected.

Many thanks, Mr. Albert (or should it be Colonel Albert?) for shedding welcome new light on "kiwi" and its history.

And to say "Merry Christmas" to the embattled Indonesians, the words are these: "Selamat hari natal!"

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—J. Edgar Hoover told a supersecret meeting of the House appropriations committee (judiciary subcommittee) recently that to the best of his knowledge no Communist agents hold any policy-making jobs in the government.

A few suspected Reds in minor government jobs are still under FBI surveillance, Hoover told the committee, but that is all.

Hoover also admitted under questioning that he did not favor making public the hitherto secret FBI reports on Harry Dexter White. He said he agreed to make the files public when ordered to do so by his boss, Attorney General Herbert Brownell.

Hoover also admitted that in a parallel case in 1951, both he and former Attorney General Howard McGrath had refused to give any of the FBI secret files on Communism to a Democratic red-hunting committee, headed by ex-Sen. Millard Tydings of Maryland.

The FBI chief also testified that less than 10 per cent of employees discharged from the Justice Department under the loyalty program were proven Communists or fellow travelers. The rest of those discharged were so-called security risks, including alcoholics, incompetents and employees who for one reason or another might be black-mailed.

MR. COHN AND MR. SCHINE

Gerard David Schine, the handsome, dreamy-eyed young man who gravitated around Europe at the taxpayers' expense on behalf of Joe McCarthy and who belatedly was drafted into the Army after various maneuvers and medical examinations, is now at Fort Dix, N. J.

There, he has been the object of several phone conversations between his pal, Roy Cohn, McCarthy's counsel, and the commanding officers.

Roy, who also gallivanted around Europe and was publicized in the German press for engaging in a private scuffle with David in a German hotel, has been very solicitous about his friend's welfare in the Army. Two or three times a week for a while, Roy called the commanding officer to ask how Gerard David was getting along.

"The Senator," said Cohn ominously, "wants to know."

This had the desired effect among lower echelons at Fort Dix. Gerard David was kept off kitchen police, guard duty and other disagreeable chores.

Finally, however, Gen. Cornelius Ryan, commander of the 19th infantry division, could take it no longer. He got in touch with the Secretary of the Army, Robert Stevens, explained the constant interference of Joe McCarthy's counsel in affairs of Fort Dix, asked him what he should do about it.

"General," replied the Secretary of the Army, already harassed over McCarthy's various probes, "this is one you've got to handle yourself."

LONELY TOM DEWEY

Probably the bitterest political feud ever experienced inside the Republican party is now taking place in New York. It has direct bearing on the Republican presidential nomination for 1956, and means that Gov. Tom Dewey, even if he wants it, will be out of the running.

Dewey is now engaged in probing the taxes of some of the most important Republican political figures in New York state—some of them once quite close to him.

Certain Republicans, in turn, are busy checking on the complete circumstances under which Dewey released Lucky Luciano from Sing Sing during the war. At that time, Luciano, considered the No. 1 criminal of New York and head of Murder, Incorporated, still had about 90 years to serve.

Behind this GOP civil war is first the fact that Dewey, with a good record as governor, suddenly woke up to find various political allies involved in the race-track "take" and other shades of dubious political operations.

Also behind it is the fact that Dewey figures that, unless he proceeds with a vigorous cleanup, not only his political goose, but his political reputation, is cooked. He has pretty much decided not to run for governor again. But even if he were inclined otherwise, the atmosphere is such that young Franklin D. Roosevelt would win in a walk.

WASHINGTON SAG

Furthermore, Dewey, the man who nominated Ike, has found his position sagging in Washington. Despite the fact that he appointed two cabinet members—Dulles and Brownell—plus the White House press secretary, Jim Hagerty, he's had a hard time putting across his Niagara Falls power project.

When Dewey went to the White House last week to discuss the Niagara power project, he had to go hat in hand and he didn't come away with a definite promise. Ike indicated that he was for letting Dewey have his way at Niagara, but he didn't button it up definitely.

It isn't too early to advise against late Christmas shopping. Now is the time for a real counter attack.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Fishermen in this area are finding a very good market for their catches of suckers. There is a big demand for them in New York City where they are sold under the more attractive name of "mullet."

"But M'sieur---You're Disturbing the Peace!"

Latin America Lures Tourists With Smart Hotels, Good Roads

By DANIEL JAMES

NEA Special Correspondent

CARACAS, Venezuela—(NEA)—Tourists in Latin America this season—it's summer here, in case anybody forgot—never had it so good.

Gone are days when your enjoyment was spoiled by worrying about water—or food-poisoning, and the nights when you couldn't sleep in sweltering hotel rooms. Americans can now live almost anywhere below the Rio Grande in the style to which they're accustomed.

New, modern hotels are mushrooming all over Latin America. Tourism, the Latin Americans have concluded, is the best way of getting much-needed U. S. dollars. Hence nothing is too good for the U. S. Tourist.

More and more Latin hotels are being equipped with the latest sanitary facilities, air-conditioned rooms, U. S. cuisines and smart shops. Best of all, prices do not burn a big hole in the tourist's pocketbook.

Sparking the trend toward up-to-date hotel accommodations in Latin America is a newcomer to the field, Intercontinental Hotels Corporation. A Pan-American World Airways subsidiary, IHC acquired its first hotel only seven years ago. Today it operates 10 in seven Latin countries and Bermuda, and is about to take on an eleventh.

On Dec. 1, IHC swung back the doors on the fourth and most fabulous of these, the Tamanaco, in Caracas, Venezuela. A glance at the Tamanaco shows why it's becoming a pleasure to travel in Latin America.

Named after an Indian chief, the Tamanaco stands on a ridge commanding a picture-postcard view of Caracas. A chunk of mountain had to be cut away to make room for it. The man who built the Tamanaco and is its president, Dr. Gustavo A. San Roman, is now known as the "mountain-mover."

The Tamanaco is a V-shaped structure that is unique. The purpose is to enable all guests to enjoy a maximum amount of shade on warm days, and to get an eyeful of the descending terraces, patio, tropical garden and kidney-shaped swimming pool in front of the hotel.

All 400 rooms are of the "studio" type, with a standard bed for single guests and a convertible sofa for double occupancy. Coffee tables and easy chairs provide a living-room atmosphere by day. You can drink from the cold-water faucet, too, because all IHC hotels are equipped with their own filter systems.

An added feature of the Tamanaco is its proximity to the airport at Maiquetia, made possible by the new superhighway—called "Autopista"—which was inaugurated at the same time as the hotel.

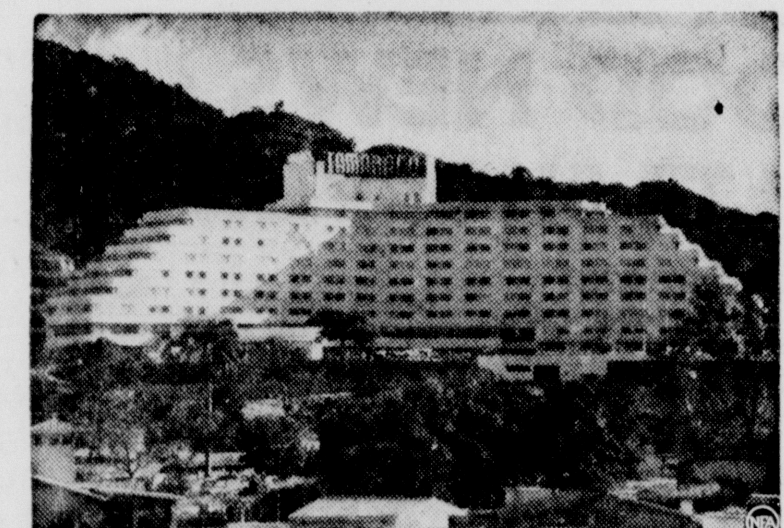

This 10-mile, six-lane superhighway reduces the travel time to Caracas from an hour and 20 minutes to just 20 minutes. A connecting belt highway in Caracas takes you to the Tamanaco in another five minutes.

Other hotels launched by Intercontinental this year include the Del Lago at Maracaibo, Venezuela; the Tequendama at Bogota, Colombia; the Victoria Plaza at Montevideo, Uruguay.

The biggest IHC venture of all,

COOL POOL is a feature of IHC's hotels in tropical Latin America. This one, in the Hotel del Prado, Maracaibo, Venezuela, has a window to watch underwater ballets.

THE MOUNTAIN WAS MOVED to make way for the Tamanaco, newest IHC hotel, which stands on a ridge at Caracas, Venezuela.

the 600-room Copan in booming Sao Paulo, Brazil, is under construction.

IHC's other properties are the Reforma at Mexico City; Carrera at Santiago, Chile; Grande at Belém, Brazil; Princess in Bermuda; and Del Prado and Pradomar, both in Colombia.

Only the Reforma is owned outright by IHC. The others are locally owned, but managed by IHC along American lines.

The story of this astonishing business-success story, and more than pleasant news for tourists. IHC is an example of good-neighborliness in action.

During the war, Latin America acquired a hefty dollar surplus. This was bound to disappear via needed postwar purchases of U. S. goods, after which the Latins would face a dollar deficit. The question was: How could Latin America earn dollars after the war boom ended?

The late President Roosevelt called in Bernard Baruch to study the matter. Baruch concluded that increased tourism was the answer. But to develop tourism, hotels were necessary. Latin hotels were Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

YOUR MONEY—In the mail today is an appealing missive from "a nation-wide, non-profit endeavor on behalf of America's household pets."

The organization whose name we will not use, asks that people remember their pets at Christmas by placing the pets "at the top of your Christmas list."

"Christmas stockings, especially for Fido, as well as Tabby, the cat, and Happy, the parakeet, should be hung on the tree or fireplace this Yuletide, lest your pet become neurotic," according to the chairman of this organization of dog-lovers to household moochers.

And further, says the chairman of this organization, if you fail to present your pet with a Christmas gift "these pets suffer the same feelings of rejection as do people."

In our opinion this is one more in the growing list of organizations which should be discouraged. To paraphrase an aging joke, Americans are over-organized, over-zealous and over-sentimental.

AND IT'S ACCOUNTING—The above reminder from an organization formed to "remind all pet owners not to forget their little animal friends at this season of the year," is typical of scores of others that flourish at the state and national level.

Little is known concerning them. They exist on paper and often employ the names of famous people (without their consent or knowledge) to give respectability to their fund-raising activities.

Occasionally some sincere but misguided persons at the local level will organize a chapter or a unit or a club and badger friends and neighbors into making contributions.

Enthusiasm fades after a few months or a few years and you never again hear of the organization that once sent paper cups to the natives of Kenya Colony and bird seed to stranded parakeets in Brooklyn.

But somewhere at the state or national level of the organization a clever idea-man is busy thinking up another organization and carefully phrasing come-on letters designed to loosen purse strings from Maine to California.

GIVE WITH CARE—There are enough reputable organizations in America doing good deeds to keep the would-be philanthropist busy handing out money.

These worthy and reputable organizations are well known, have been in existence for at least a few years, and you will find community leaders working for them as volunteers.

For your own protection, however, it might be well to examine them in the light of a recommendation by one Escanaba businessman, who proposed:

"That not one cent be given to any fund-raising organization which fails, at the end of its year, to give a public accounting of its revenues and disbursements. Such a statement could be filed in City Hall or with the Chamber of Commerce."

Does that sound too mercenary for words? If it does, it may startle you to know that you are a likely prospect for the fly-by-night solicitor who annually bilks the American people of hundreds of thousands if not millions of dollars.

GOOD ONES HARMED—The current publicity in connection with the investigation of fund-raising rackets can harm the reputation of even the most respectable and worthwhile public-supported organization.

The campaign against the racketeering fund-raisers should bring twofold benefit: 1—It will discourage people from giving to all but the well established and worthy organization; and 2—The worthy organizations should in future receive the contributions that once went to the rackets.

Until people are better informed concerning the organizations appealing to them for money there is the possibility that some worthy causes will suffer because of the adverse publicity. Certainly the long-established organizations, headed by your community by volunteers of reliable reputation, should continue to receive your support.

There can be no generalization in this regard, however, for sometimes a racket organization will hoodwink a local person into accepting a chairmanship—or sometimes use his name without his knowledge or consent.

Best protection for the person considering making a contribution to any new organization whose reputation is not well known is to seek advice from the Chamber of Commerce. They will help you determine the worthy from the unworthy fund-raising organization.

The Doctor Says . . . Kidney Failure Often Leads To Condition Called Edema

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Mrs. B. T. writes: "What causes dropsy and would it be advisable to diet for it? I am sixty-seven years old and weigh 168 pounds." Mrs. E. also asks for a discussion of dropsy or edema, and if a doctor can take tests which will show whether the dropsy comes from the kidneys.

It is possible to make tests which will reveal what is causing a dropsy, but these questions deserve some discussion since many people seem to be much confused about the meaning of the accumulation of fluid in the body tissues, and what should be done about it.

The first thing to remember is that dropsy, or edema, which is the preferred medical name, refers to the accumulation in the tissues of fluids which would ordinarily be eliminated, principally through the urine. There are several possible causes for this dropsical accumulation of fluid, but only the two most important ones will be discussed today.

One is the failure of the heart and circulation to pump the blood fast enough through the kidneys so that these organs fail to filter out and eliminate the fluids which should be cast off. The fluid therefore accumulates in the body and generally goes to those parts which have the poorest circulation such as the feet and legs.

This kind of edema is treated by trying to improve the action of the heart and circulation, raising the legs so that the circulation will not have to work so hard against gravity, and by other medical or surgical measures.

FILTERING ACTION STOPPED

The other principal kind of dropsy comes from disease or damage to the kidneys themselves. Here something has gone wrong with the filtering action of these organs so that they simply do not eliminate all the fluids they should. The treatment of dropsy of kidney origin is highly complicated and may involve restriction of salt, special diet, and other things.

Edema, therefore, is not a disease by itself but rather the reflection of some underlying disorder which is likely to be serious. Anyone who develops dropsy should place himself or herself under good medical care and obey carefully whatever directions are given. Failure to do this may result tragically.

Soo Locks Cracks Its Own Record In Shipping For 1953

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (P)—The world's busiest canal system, bypassing the rapids of the St. Marys River, cracked its own cargo record in 1953.

Sleek Great Lakes freighters, averaging 112 passages a day, carried nearly 129 million tons of cargo through the canal's five single locks—four on the United States side of the river and one on the Canadian side. The old record of just over 120 million tons was established in wartime 1942.

Ore Feeds Furnaces

Iron ore from the Lake Superior country dominated the cargo picture. More than 93 million tons moved through the key Great Lakes transportation link to feed the hungry blast furnaces and open hearths of the industrial east.

Wheat ranked second in the cargo picture with more than 7 million tons, about half the record total for wheat, set in 1945. Petroleum products, mostly crude oil piped from Alberta to Superior, Wis., for transshipment, was third with 3,086,875 tons—a record for this type of cargo.

The ore, wheat and oil moved east. Westbound cargoes were mainly soft coal and automobiles—more than 35,000 went to the lakehead ports.

Bigger Cargoes

Giant new freighters played a part in the year's record run. Canadian vessels like the Sir James Dunn, John O. McKellar and Scott Misener have a carrying capacity of some 13,000 gross tons or more. Inland Steel's Wilfred Sykes has a capacity of 19,500 tons and some other new U. S. vessels rank close to it.

The modern canal, in which 650-foot freighters are a common sight, presents a striking contrast to the first canal the fur traders built in the late 1700s to avoid the back-breaking portage around the then turbulent rapids. Now the rapids are quiet because of diversion of water through power canals, but their rocks are still a block to navigation.

The old Northwest Fur Co. built the first lock in 1797-98, for its fur-laden bateaux. Constructed of timber and rock, it was 28 feet long and nine feet wide. A tow path was constructed along the shore for oxen to pull bateaux and canoes past the upper rapids.

American troops destroyed the old lock when they occupied Sault Ste. Marie in the war of 1812. It has since been restored in its original form.

Portage Until 1855

Except for the fur company lock, movement of freight to and from Lake Superior was by portage until 1855 when the United States built its first lock. Until its construction, freight passing the two Saults by portage was estimated at 12,690 tons a year.

The United States has the biggest of the modern locks—the MacArthur, built during the second world war. It has a depth of 31 feet and can accommodate any vessel on the lakes.

The Canadian lock completed in 1895, has a depth of about 22 feet. It is estimated that some 55 million dollars has been spent by the United States and Canada on construction and upkeep of the canal system which facilitated industrial expansion in the East and development of natural resources in the West.

Einstein Drops In At Wedding

NEW YORK (P)—The aged, white-haired man strode into the fashionable Hotel Plaza Sunday night and headed for the elaborately decorated Terrace Room.

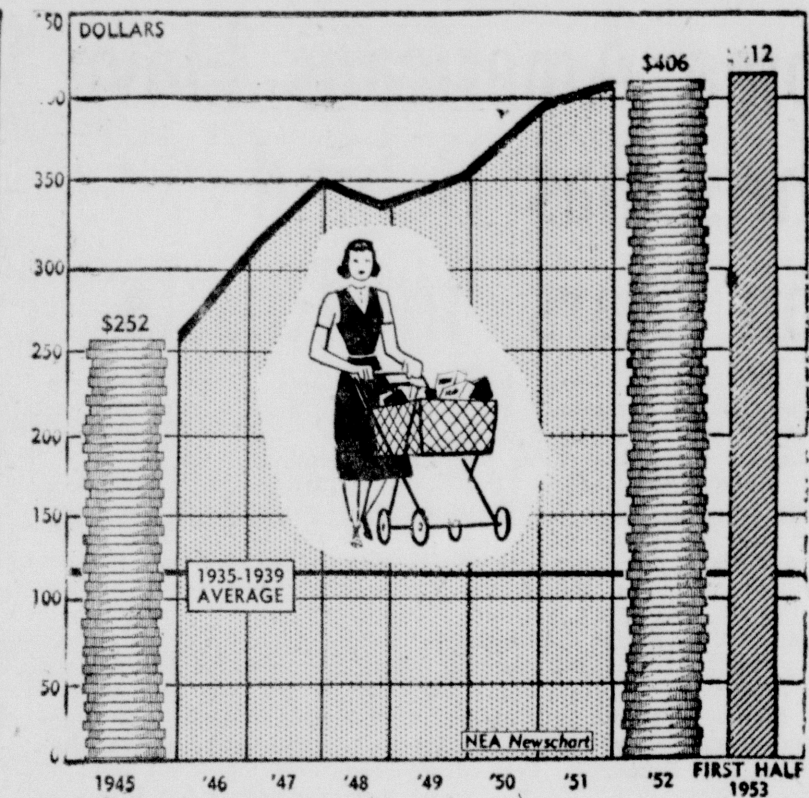

He handed the checkroom girl an old navy blue knitted cap similar to those sailors wear for a cold watch. Then he doffed an overcoat in which a waiter spotted an NRA label of the early 1930s.

Then, in a well-worn dark business suit and vest and an ordinary striped tie, the white-haired man strolled into the main room to mingle with men in white ties and tails, and women gowned in formal silk and jewels.

It was one of the season's most elegant weddings, and the aged gentleman in the dark business suit was perhaps the most eminent wedding guest.

He came late but was one of the first through the reception line after the ceremony to congratulate the bridegroom, Dr. Thomas Lee Bucky of Cornell University Medical College here, and the bride, the former Miss Margaret Neuberg of Park avenue and Weston, Conn.

The guest, a close friend of Bucky's father, physicist Gustav Bucky, quickly ducked around a

Windmill Becomes Spanish Art Gallery

CIUDAD REAL, Spain (P)—A windmill, 52 feet high described as the biggest in Spain and one of the largest in the world, has been built in the village of Valdepenas, in the Mancha wine region. This is the first step in the reconstruction of the windmills which were given world fame through Miguel de Cervantes' classic "Don Quixote."

The new windmill, with three floors, is a museum for works by the local artists Gregorio Prieto, founder of the "Association of Friend of Windmills."

Russia To Join In Atomic Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today that Soviet Russia has agreed to join the United States in secret negotiations on President Eisenhower's proposal for an international atomic pool.

Murray Snyder, assistant presidential press secretary, told newsmen the Russian government also has asked the U. S. for additional information on Eisenhower's Dec. 8 plan.

Snyder declined to provide more information on the Soviet note, which Moscow radio said had been handed to American Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen in Moscow today.

In outlining his plan to the United Nations General Assembly, Eisenhower proposed that Russia join with the United States and other nations possessing atomic materials in creating an international atomic energy agency for peaceful development.

Mothers Entertained At Christmas Party

DANFORTH—Mothers of the Danforth-Newhall 4-H girls were entertained Friday, Dec. 18, at a Christmas party held at the Danforth School.

Lorraine LaMarche, program chairman of the club, presented the mothers with the following program:

Christmas Song, Diane Hereaux, Sandra LaVallie and Sharon Langtane

Come All Ye Faithful, Joyce Stonecliff and Priscilla Langtane

The Christmas Story, dialogue, Rose Mary Hereau and Sharon LaPalm

I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus, Shirley Dubord

Carol singing, group

Mrs. Fred Bernhardt furnished the music for square dancing. While the mothers were served refreshments from a candle lit table decorated with a yule log centerpiece, a group of girls in the background softly sang Silent Night. Gifts were exchanged by the girls. Twelve mothers and 24 4-H girls attended the party.

Mrs. Malcolm Stonecliff assisted the leaders, Mrs. Arthur Anderson and Mrs. Harry Blixt, with the preparations.

The next regular meeting will be held Jan. 4 at 7 p. m. in the Newhall school.

MITTEN-RUB . . . Toweling mitts make shampoo fun.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Neatest trick of the week is using worn-out bath towels to make terry-cloth mittens, endlessly useful for the bath or shampoo.

A pair of toweling mittens do a wonderful job of drying the hair after a shampoo. They are easy to stitch up in a few minutes, even by an amateur seamstress, following simple directions by local sewing center experts.

Each mitten is made by cutting two large U-shaped sections from a worn towel. Stitch together, leaving ample seam allowance. Use the binder attachment on your sewing machine to stitch a band of gay contrasting binding around the cuff. For the gathered wrist, use the gathing foot on your machine, using elastic thread in the bobbin. Make a pair for each member of the family, or several pairs for your church bazaar. The mittens may also be used as washcloths, with the soap inside.

Young People Join Escanaba Kiwanians In Christmas Program

Sons, daughters and grandchildren were guests Monday at a special Escanaba Kiwanis Club Christmas program consisting of Christmas music, group caroling and a Yuletide address. The event was arranged by Fred Johnson.

Each member introduced guests, some of them including two and three of their children. An added introduction was that made by Clarence Zerbel, club secretary, who presented the Boy Scout Life rank badge to Richard Johnson.

A sextet in brass, "Four Johns and Pat and Ted", played several selections, and there were vocal soprano solos by Mrs. Cory Hartbarger, vocal instructor in the Escanaba public schools, with Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom as piano accompanist. The program closed with a Christmas message by the Rev. Gustav Lund, who recounted old country customs in the observation of the Christmas season.

Kiwanians brought children's gifts to be placed in a pool for basket distribution to needy families.

BAKE at 350 degrees F. for 35 to 40 minutes. Makes two 9-inch round layers.
PLACE—1 cup finely chopped nuts evenly over bottoms of two well-greased and lightly-floured 9-inch round layer pans.
GRATE—2 ounces sweet or semi-sweet chocolate reserve.
SIFT TOGETHER—2 1/2 cups Pillsbury's best enriched flour, 4 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt and 1 1/2 cups sugar into mixing bowl.
ADD—1/2 cup shortening, 1 1/4 cups milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla.
BEAT—for 1 1/2 minutes, 150 strokes per minute, until batter is well blended.
With electric mixer blend at low speed, then beat at medium speed for 1 1/2 minutes.
ADD—3 cup egg whites, 4 large or 5 medium, unbeaten.
BEAT—for 1 1/2 minutes.
SPOON—one-fourth of batter carefully into each nut-lined pan, using about half of the batter. Sprinkle with the grated chocolate half in each pan. Spoon remaining batter into pans, spreading carefully so chocolate is not disturbed.
BAKE—in moderate oven 350 degrees F. 35 to 40 minutes. Let cool in pans 10 to 15 minutes before turning out. Cool thoroughly and frost layers, nut-side up, with chocolate frosting. Spread frosting between and on sides of layers, but frost only 1/2 inch around top edge of cake and about 1 inch in center. Decorate chocolate frosting with reserved 1/2 cup white frosting thinned with 1 to 2 teaspoons water for easier spreading.
Chocolate frosting
Combine 2 squares 2 oz./ chocolate, 1/2 cup granulated sugar and 1/4 cup water in saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until chocolate melts and mixture is smooth and thick. Remove from heat. Add 4 egg yolks, beat thoroughly. Cool.
Cream 1/2 cup butter or margarine and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Blend in gradually 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, creaming well. Reserve 1/2 cup of this mixture to decorate cake. Add cool chocolate mixture to remaining butter-sugar mixture. Beat until smooth.—Pillsbury Mills.

Korean Priest To Offer Midnight Mass At Fayette

The Rev. Gabriel Lee of Pusan, Korea, who presently is studying sociology at the University of Marquette in Milwaukee, will be a guest of Rev. R. J. Bassett over the Christmas holidays. Father Lee will conduct the Christmas midnight services at St. Peter's church in Fayette and will have the Christmas morning services at St. John's parish in Garden.

Father Lee was born in Yonchun, Kyong-book, Korea Feb. 29, 1924. He pursued his studies for the holy priesthood at the diocesan seminary in Seoul, the capital of Korea, and was ordained to the priesthood Oct. 28, 1950 at the Tae-Gu Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. After his ordination he was assigned to the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Pusan as assistant. He also aided the director of the Catholic orphanage there, Rev. Tyeung. While in Pusan, Father Lee often helped out in Catholic chapels for the American soldiers.

In 1952 Father Lee was sent to America to get his Ph. D. in sociology. He arrived in Milwaukee Sept. 27. He intends to finish his studies at Fordham University in New York. On his return to Korea, Father Lee will be assigned to specialized work in the social field.

Although Father Lee speaks English very well and has assisted the chaplain of St. Mary's convent in Milwaukee with whom he resides during his stay there, his visit to the Marquette diocese and his assistance at St. Peter's and St. John's parishes during the Christmas holidays, will be his first experience in an American parish.

St. Patrick's Christmas Music Announced By Sister Cherubim

The music of the Midnight Mass and the Christmas Day masses at St. Patrick's Church has been arranged by Sister M. Cherubim, O. P., director of St. Patrick's School of Music. Organist will be Mrs. William Ramspeck.

St. Patrick's Senior Choir will sing Christmas carols from 11:30 to the midnight hour Christmas Eve. The carols are "Birthdays of a King," "Gesu Bambino," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," a duet by Wayne Carter and John Wood, "O Holy Night" and "In Old Judea" with Anne Geigel, soloist.

As the procession to the crib enters the church the choir will sing "Silent Night" with Wayne Carter, soloist. As the infant is placed in the crib Anne and Jeanette Geigel will sing "Sleep, Holy Babe" and the choir will again sing "Silent Night."

The Proper of the First Mass of Christmas will be sung by the entire choir. The Missa "Salve Regina" will be sung, the Gregorian Chant Credo III, the Sanctus and Agnus Dei from Missa in honor of St. Joseph. Offertory hymn will be "Adeste Fideles" and after Mass "Ring O Ring Ye Beautiful Christmas Bells," with Anne Geigel playing the bells.

During the Communion of the Mass John Wood will play a cornet solo, "Silent Night."

At 11 a. m. Christmas morning the entire program will be repeated.

Donna Williamson, Carl McShane Wed In Chicago

Miss Donna Mae Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Williamson, Rapid River Rte. 1, and Carl Thomas McShane, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McShane of Smith Falls, Ontario, Canada, were married in a ceremony at high noon Saturday, Dec. 19, at Thorndike Hilton Chapel in Chicago. Dr. Vilderbrand officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Two large baskets of all white flowers were arranged with the lighted candles on the altar. Solos of the ceremony were "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

White Satin And Lace
The bride's gown was made of white satin covered with imported Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice and a rounded neckline and fingertip length sleeves. The full skirt with a scalloped hemline was waltz length. A cap of the same Chantilly lace covered with seed pearls secured her fingertip veil. She carried white roses centered with an orchid.

Maid of honor, Edna Marie Finstrom of Chicago, formerly of Gladstone, Rte. 1, wore cotton blue satin and net. The gown was made with a halter neckline and full skirt and had a matching jacket and gauntlets. She wore a tiara of net and flowers and carried pink and white flowers.

Dean McShane of Toronto was best man for his brother.

Mrs. Williamson wore a navy blue suit with a pink ascot and pink accessories for her daughter's wedding. Orchids formed her corsage.

The wedding dinner was served in the Prado Room of the Del Prado Hotel. Appointments were in the Christmas theme.

Home in Chicago
Following a honeymoon in Toledo, Detroit, Niagara Falls, Toronto and Smith Falls and in Rapid River, the newlyweds will be at home at 6934 Harper in Chicago.

For traveling the bride is wearing a heather blue suit with red and blue accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Escanaba High School. Her husband received his degree from the University of Toronto.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. George Williamson of Rapid River, Dean McShane of Smith Falls, Ontario, Gerald Williamson of East Lansing and Mr.

Boy From Rushville Skeptical About Peace Conferences

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

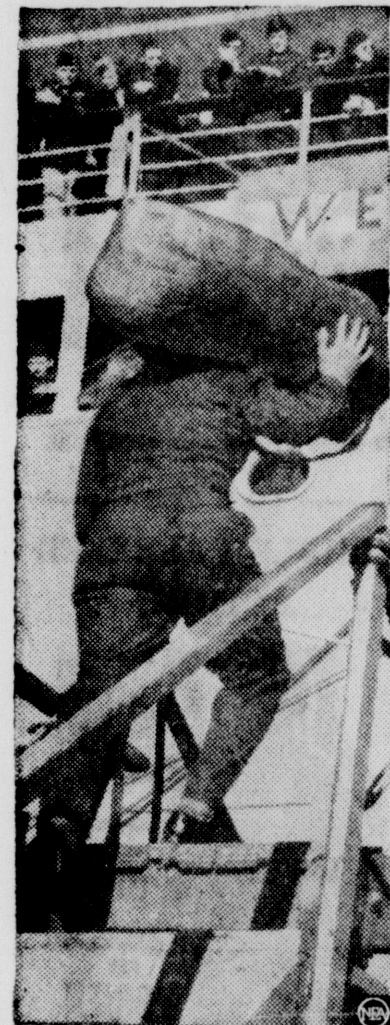

PARIS (NEA)—My friend Jim of Rushville, Indiana—as smiling and bright-eyed a GI as I ever met in the years I've roamed post-war Europe—has few illusions about international conferences.

"What's the use, sir," Corporal Jim said, still smiling. "The big brass meet, talk, bargain, shake hands and go home. What happens? The cold war goes on just the same."

"Would you say the same thing about a meeting with the Russians?" I asked.

"To my mind, sir, the same thing," the corporal replied without a moment's hesitation.

It is not that Jim is unconcerned with the fate of humanity. Except on the pages of Europe's Communist and neutralist press, what normal American boy actually is? But after two years of service in France—as an "American imperialist," no less—Jim is a bit skeptical.

The truth is that when I met Jim on the Nord Express, where we shared a sleeping compartment, he had more pleasant things to think about than international politics.

He was going home for Christmas—home to Rushville.

The Nord Express, running from Paris to Stockholm, Sweden, via the U. S.-occupied German port of Bremen, is only slightly less famous in European tourist propaganda than the Orient Express. Apparently kings and diplomats, poets, philosophers and romantic crooks have ridden this rickety, crawling "express" through the ages. But none, I am sure was ever more happy than my friend Jim.

"Going to Stockholm?" I asked to break the ice and start a conversation.

"Stockholm?" Jim exclaimed in alarm. "It's Bremerhaven for me, sir. A ship is waiting there, a ship that will take me back to the good old U. S."

I offered him a cognac to celebrate the occasion. There was a moment of embarrassed silence.

"I'm not really a drinkin' man, sir," Jim said apologetically.

"Never?"

"Sometimes, I could go for a chocolate malted but I guess I'll have to wait until I get to Rushville."

I looked at the plump, pink-cheeked, 21-year-old boy. He was at peace with himself and at peace with the world. Though a bit skeptical, he had no quarrel with anyone. There was no bitterness in his soul. Only a warm, smiling human friendship for his fellow creatures, however strange they may be.

Jim was told to go to Europe, far away from his native Rushville. He went. He will come again if wanted and needed. But now he was happy to go back home to help his father in the furniture business.

"How did you like being an imperialist, Jim?" I asked.

"What's that, sir?"

"Didn't you see those posters all over Paris—the signs, I mean, that say: 'U. S. Go Home'?"

"Oh, them," Jim replied still smiling. "They sure burned me up but I didn't pay too much attention to them."

"Did you get along with the French?"

"It's like with people everywhere, sir. Some were nice and kindly. Some were no good. On the whole I have no complaints."

The German conductor announced that the train had arrived in Bremen. Jim slung his duffle bag over his shoulder and

Christmas Tidbits Unusual Aids For Holiday Hostess

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

From Boston and Oakland, Calif., we picked these hints for unusually pleasant Christmas parties.

Red Devil Appetizers

One package cream cheese, 1 can (2 1/4 ounces) deviled ham, 1 cup finely chopped nuts walnuts, pecans, peanuts, etc.)

Blend together cream cheese and deviled ham. Chill. Shape chilled mixture into small balls (about teaspoon each) and roll in chopped nuts to form thick outer coating. Chill. Serve on picks as appetizers.

Chocolate Heaven Cake

Bake or buy 2 (9-inch) layers of white or gold cake. Put layers was gone in a minute.

By now the ex-corporal is probably back in Rushville helping his father in the furniture business or continuing his studies as a refrigeration engineer. I want to wish him a Merry Christmas and good luck.

I only hope that some of our European allies who deliberately close their eyes to the basic difference between American freedom and Red slavery will one day—should misfortune ever strike—find Corporal Ivan as imperialist-minded as my friend Jim is.

together with Chocolate Whipped-Cream Filling (below) between. Frost sides and top of cake with Sherried Chocolate Frosting (below). Sprinkle chopped nuts over top of cake if desired. Makes 1 (2-layer) cake.

Chocolate Whipped-Cream Filling: Combine 1/2 cup heavy cream, 1 1/2 tablespoons cocoa, 1/4 cup confectioners' sugar and 1/4 teaspoon vanilla in a bowl. Chill 20 minutes, then beat until stiff.

Sherried Chocolate Frosting: Melt 3 (1-ounce) squares chocolate and 6 tablespoons butter or margarine together over hot water. Remove from water. Stir in 1/3 cup sherry or cream and a dash of salt. Gradually add about 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar (enough to give the frosting a nicely spreadable consistency), beating until frosting is very smooth.

Deviled Party Pinwheels

Two cans (2 1/4 ounces) deviled ham, 1 package cream cheese (3 ounces), 6 stuffed olives, minced, 1 bunch crisp celery.

Combine deviled ham, cream cheese and minced olives. Blend thoroughly. Separate celery stalks, wash and dry. Stuff each piece with the ham mixture. Press stalks back together, overlapping them. When all stalks

OMAHA (AP)—Omaha police, who have already begun using color pictures for identification purposes, are now looking forward to adding a three-dimensional depth system as soon as funds are available.

Local officers think the 3-D system may be the first in the nation.

The idea of both color and 3-D are placed to resemble original bunch, wrap in wax paper and tie or secure with rubber bands.

Chill for about 3 hours. Use a sharp knife to slice in 1/2-inch pinwheels. Serve as appetizers, or arrange 3-4 on lettuce and serve as salad.

GLADSTONE

Trees Grow On Greeting Cards

ARTISTS INTERPRET CHRISTMAS SYMBOL... The roots of the Christmas tree grow deep in tradition and legend. Here are some views of the tree as members of the American Artists

Group interpret it on 1953 Christmas cards. Tree motifs range from traditional and nostalgic to ultra-modern—but they're all our favorite Christmas symbol.

Rotarians Have Christmas Party

Gladstone Rotarians held their annual Christmas party Monday noon at the Yacht Club.

Gifts were exchanged, with Supt. of Schools Wallace C. Cameron serving as Santa Claus. Poetry or prose of exceptional merit accompanied several of the gifts.

Christmas carols were sung by the group with Freeman Empson, Birmingham, Mich., a guest, providing the piano accompaniment.

Also guests at the meeting were Stanley Hawkins of Saginaw and W. C. Collings of East Lansing.

Gifts exchanged at the meeting were turned over to the Child's Welfare club for inclusion in Christmas baskets.

Mixed Doubles Winners Listed

Mrs. Ethel Schoenberger and Jim Reese got a total of 973 to win first place in the mixed doubles event at the Midway all-leys last weekend. Second with 964 were Mrs. Ruth Hamilton and Hubert Bray while Ann Sword and Charles Lundmark were third with 918. Low was made by Hazel Gillis and Phil Miron who scored 755.

High game among the men was 215 scored by Hubert Bray while women's high was 191 rolled by Hazel Gillis.

Mixed doubles will continue to be held each weekend during the holidays.

Dead Man Pays Fine For Speeding

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee Traffic Court collected a $25 speeding fine from a dead man. He was released on $25 bail. His speeding case was called next day. When he did not appear, the court ordered his bond forfeit as a fine as is customary.

The man was killed in a head-on collision.

Obituary

MRS. JOHN LEMIEUX

DOG IS LOOKOUT

HAVERHILL, Mass. (AP)—When police approached a house where they were certain a gambling game was in progress, a dog ran toward the door, barking. The place was empty when police entered with their warrant.

They believe the dog had been trained to warn the gamblers.

Santa Rushes Post Office

Volume of mail handled in the Manistique post office, both incoming and outgoing, is considerably higher this year than last year, Postmaster Frank M. Gierke Sr., reported today.

Since Dec. 14, the post office has handled 12,000 and more pieces of mail daily and Wednesday reached a peak of 17,150 pieces of outgoing mail, Gierke said. Friday, 16,000 pieces were handled, and Saturday 15,000.

Seven extra employees have been added to the post office staff for the holiday rush.

Patrons seem to be mailing earlier this year than in other years, the postmaster reports.

Last year, in the 5-day period preceding Christmas, about 120,000 pieces of mail were processed.

Also feeling the holiday rush business is the Soo Line passenger service.

The morning train Monday arrived three hours late, due to the heavy volume of mail and express. For several days the 8:10 a. m., Soo Line train has been an hour or more late. The night train, which arrives at 8 p. m., EST, has not been as late because it has a four-hour layover between arrival and departure in Sault Ste. Marie, and thus can make-up lost time.

Health Workers Will Attend TB Meeting Jan. 18-19

Three staff members of the Alger-Schoolcraft Health Department will attend a peninsula-wide meeting on tuberculosis at Iron Mountain Jan. 18 and 19, Dr. R. A. Tearnan, director, said today.

The two-day meeting, which will be devoted to discussion of principles of tuberculosis control, and will include material on methods of case finding, organization and administration of mass chest x-ray surveys, and supervision and control of suspect cases.

Dr. Tearnan, Mrs. Harold Snyder, R. N., and Mrs. Cecil Keller, clerk, are scheduled to attend.

State and county officers, health department personnel, and lay people have been invited to the meeting, called by the Michigan Department of Health.

Speakers will include Dr. John Cowan, director of the Michigan Department of Health division on tuberculosis and adult health; Dr. John L. Isbister, MHD tuberculosis control officer; Dr. John Towey, medical director of Pinecrest Sanatorium at Powers; Dr. Gerald W. Behan, director of the Grand Traverse-Leelanau-Benzie Health Department; Roy Manty, MHD chronic disease coordinator; Jack Newitt, MHD mobile x-ray unit supervisor; Alice E. Boggs, medical-social consultant for the MHD; Norbert Reinstein, health education director for the Detroit tuberculosis and health society; Mildred Spellman, R. N., tuberculosis nursing consultant for the MHD; and Dr. Donald A. Cowan, director of the Chippewa-Luce-Mackinac Health department.

Thompson Man Receives Patent

Thomas P. Smith of Thompson has been granted a U. S. patent on a cable-pulling device which can be used on the wheels of vehicles which have lost their traction.

Smith, an employee of the Michigan Conservation Department at the Thompson fish hatchery for the past 31 years, applied for the patent in Oct. 1952, and was granted patent rights Dec. 15, this year.

He first had the idea for the cable-pulling device several years ago while helping plant fish with a heavy planting unit. A 7-ton truck stuck in loose sand on a back country road and "lots of perspiration, hard work and cold beans" were necessary to extricate the loaded vehicle Smith states.

Motor Winds Cable

The cable-pulling device is designed to fit wheels of cars and trucks of the single wheel type, and for heavy duty use on trucks with dual rear wheels.

Principle behind Smith's attachment is use of the motor's power to turn the wheels. The wheels wind a cable, one end of which is anchored to a stationary point, such as a stump or a sunken pin.

"Regardless of conditions, the vehicles can be removed from loose sand, mud, deep snow etc., as long as it is in upright position and its motor is in running order," the patent holder explains.

Manufacturing Possibilities

It operates both forwards and backwards, is simple to attach, and is compact so that it can be stored in a small space in a trunk or compartment, Smith notes.

The heavy duty or dual-wheel attachment differs somewhat from the light truck or car attachment. When fixed to the rear wheels, the dual-wheel attachment can be left on permanently, or until a tire or wheel has to be replaced. It is designed to fit into the outside well of a dual-wheel set and will not interfere with the operation of the wheels, Smith points out.

The patent holder states the device could be manufactured at reasonable cost. He has no prospects for production on a market basis as yet, but notes that if it were put on the market, drivers would have "more confidence when hitting unknown trails."

Two Peninsula Men Get Sentences Jan. 4 From Federal Judge

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Sentencing of two Upper Peninsula men on embezzlement charges, originally scheduled for Monday, has been delayed by Federal Judge Raymond W. Starr until Jan. 4.

Court officers said the reason was that pre-sentence investigations have not been completed. The two are Laurence E. Chabot, 54, the former president of the Ontonagon First National Bank,

Oil Is Flowing In New Pipeline

Tests of the Lakehead oil company's new 36-inch pipeline from Ford River to Gould City were satisfactory and oil now is flowing in the line, J. W. Rich, Lakehead foreman here reported today.

The crude oil, flowing from Superior, Wis., to Sarnia, Ont., was expected to reach Gould City by tonight.

Lakehead and the Interprovincial Oil Company first started oil flowing into the new 635-mile line extending from Superior, Wis., to Sarnia, Ont., Oct. 8, but the oil was stopped near Crystal Falls a month ago when pipeline sections in the Manistique area failed to hold up under pressure tests.

A total of 19 repairs was made between Cooks and the Straits of Mackinac by Midwestern Constructors Inc. The difficulty arose because workmen this summer cut holes in pipe to allow it to sink to the required depth in water-filled trenches in swamps. Cap welds over these holes did not hold and new sections of pipe had to be laid.

Crude oil is flowing in the line at a rate slightly less than a mile per hour.

and William J. Pelmar, 54, former treasurer of the Menominee City and County Employees Federal Credit Union.

Both were indicted by a federal grand jury and pleaded guilty upon arraignment here earlier this month.

Thoughtful Drivers Usually Insured

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—There's a reason, says state motor vehicles commissioner Charles F. Kelley, why uninsured motorists are involved in 18 per cent of the accidents in Connecticut although they number only 10 per cent of the registered drivers.

"The person who is thoughtful enough to carry liability insurance to protect other people is more likely to be careful and thoughtful all the way through," says Kelley.

Hawks Will Play Home Wednesday

Calumet Radars First NMH Puck Team Here

The 1953-54 Northern Michigan Hockey League season will open in Escanaba tomorrow night when the defending champion Calumet Radars tangle with the Escanaba Hawks at the fairgrounds rink.

The opening faceoff will be at 9:15 p. m. instead of 8 p. m. to accommodate Christmas shoppers. Escanaba stores are open until 9 tomorrow night.

After making a commendable showing in the annual all-star game, the Radars proved they will again be in the thick of the championship race by spanking the Portage Lake Pioneers, 12-2, in Calumet Saturday night.

The Hawks likewise are regarded as championship caliber this season. Escanaba has made an increasingly better showing in each of its first three seasons in the fast N-M loop, and it is anticipated this year will be no exception.

Making Fast Progress
"At this stage of the season, we are far ahead of any previous corresponding period," Coach Mark Olson of the Hawks said this morning. "Thanks to several hard practices at Marquette, the all-star game and the league game in Marquette last Thursday, we're in better condition, our timing, skating and passing is improving steadily and we're starting to function as a team should."

Despite the loss to Marquette last Thursday, Coach Olson was not disappointed with the team's showing.

"That's the best opening period we've ever played and we definitely had Marquette on the run the second and third period until the free-for-all with seven minutes to go," he said. "That hurt us because we already had Doug Peterson in the penalty box and playing three men against four is tougher than four men against five. The fight broke up the game and worked in Marquette's favor."

How They Match Up
As fans will recall, Marquette held only a slim 3-2 edge and Escanaba was picking up steam until the wrestling match started after Jim Eady, Marquette's peppery, tangled with Escanaba's Jim Ogle. That broke up the game and with the Hawks two men short, Marquette poured in three quick goals. Ben Artwick looked good in the Escanaba net. Escanaba's three lines worked effectively, but its defense was somewhat weak.

"We worked out Saturday afternoon — our first time on fairgrounds rink this season — and we'll show Calumet a better defense than we did Marquette," the fiery Escanaba coach declared.

Working on the first line are Ted Olson and Joe Ricci at wings and Jim Ogle at center. A second line with Doug Peterson, Bud Provo and Bill Suriano is on a par with the first. A promising "kid" line is composed of Bob Bizeau,

Howe Still Top Hockey Scorer

MONTREAL (AP)—The National Hockey League race tightened during the past week but there wasn't a change among the leading individual point makers.

Gordie Howe of Detroit, Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion of Montreal and Ted Lindsay of Detroit held to their one-two-three positions, league statistics showed today.

Howe has 16 goals and 25 assists for 41 points, Geoffrion 18 and 15 for 33 and Lindsay 11 and 22 for 33.

Howe is the champion assist-getter but Montreal's Maurice Richard has scored the most goals—20.

Toronto's Harry Lumley remains the top goal tender. In 32 games he had allowed 52 goals for an average of 1.62. He is tied with Terry Sawchuk of Detroit in shut-outs. Each has five.

North, South Coaches Ease Up On Workouts
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Coaches for the North and South college all-star football squads eased up on workouts today to avoid injuries before the Christmas night game in the Orange Bowl.

"From now until game time we will just work out in the mornings," said North coach Stu Holcomb of Purdue.

South coach Andy Gustafson of Miami said his squad planned one long drill this morning, then would go deep sea fishing.

Illinois Joins Ranks Of Beaten Cage Teams

NEW YORK (AP)—Oklahoma A&M, the nation's fifth-ranking basketball team, has had its revenge on the Big Ten for its only loss of the season.

The Cowboys pinned the first defeat of the winter on fourth-ranking Illinois Monday night, 65-60 in overtime, and they did it on the Illini's own court at Champaign. The Oklahoma club's lone setback so far was by one point in overtime against Minnesota.

Illinois was one of three major teams which lost for the first time Monday night. Rice whipped Vanderbilt 79-60 and top-ranking Indiana squeezed past Oregon State 76-72 in overtime.

Kentucky, LaSalle Win
Kentucky's resurgent Wildcats broke loose in the third quarter for an 85-69 decision against Duke in the first round of its own invitational tournament at Lexington. La Salle defeated UCLA 62-53 in their other first round game.

Eight Big Ten teams saw action and the conference just managed to break even. In addition to Illinois' defeat, Michigan bowed before a 26-point fourth quarter spurge by Cincinnati 81-62; Louisiana State held Northwestern to two points in the third quarter in its 79-51 victory; and Tulane edged Wisconsin 57-55 as Hal Cerini sank four of six free throws in overtime.

Indiana, Minnesota and Michigan State, idle last night, are the Big Ten's only undefeated teams.

Highest Ohio Score
Ohio State ran up its all-time high total as it overwhelmed the University of Miami (Fla.) 106-81 with Paul Ebert scoring 35 points.

Minnesota remained unbeaten with a 66-63 triumph over Tulsa. Iowa came from behind to nip Colorado 78-72 and stretch its perfect home record against nonconference teams to 61 games.

Indiana had a real battle before subduing Oregon State. The Hoosiers led by four points at half-time but held only a one-point edge after three quarters and were caught at 63-63 before the regulation game time ran out.

The game settled down to a scoring duel between Indiana's 6-10 center Don Schlundt and his Beaver counterpart, 7-3 Swede Halbrook until the towering OSC pivotman fouled out five minutes before regulation time was up. Schlundt wound up with 34 points while Halbrook had 23. Quick field goals by Charlie Kraak and Dick Fraley with two minutes left in the overtime period pulled Indiana from a 69-68 deficit into a permanent lead.

Trojans Lose Third
The thriller was the nightcap of a double-header in which Oregon ran away from Nebraska 84-68 in the first game.

Bradley surprised Southern California 79-64, the third loss for the Trojans on their Eastern tour.

Loyola of New Orleans hit 41 per cent of its field goal attempts in beating Detroit 79-63 but Loyola of Los Angeles and Loyola of Chicago weren't as fortunate. The California school was beaten 77-64 by Stanford and the Chicago team lost to Western Michigan 80-69. De Paul beat St. Mary's of Winona, Minn., 81-65.

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia beat LaFayette 59-57 on a jump shot by Billy Lynch with six seconds to play. California breezed past Hawaii 77-56.

Final-Second Action
Oklahoma A&M led Illinois until late in the fourth quarter but with three seconds to play Max Hooper of Illinois was fouled and sank two free throws. The Aggies heaved the ball to a sleeper and tied the score as regulation time ran out. In the overtime Bob Hendrick, subbing at center for Bob Mattick who had fouled out, scored five points.

Minnesota found itself in a tough battle with Tulsa, which the Gophers beat earlier this year 62-60. The game went down to the wire in a furious lead-trading scramble. Two free throws in the final seconds by Ed Kalafat cinched it.

Indiana and Oregon State tangled again tonight. Pittsburgh plays at Michigan State.

The schedule for the rest of the week:

Wednesday—Marquette at Minnesota, Notre Dame at Bradley.

Saturday—Yale at Northwestern, Oregon State at Ohio State.

with solid, if not sensational play at the fullback post. He led the team in ground gaining for the fourth straight year, with 482 yards, and was the third best pass catcher, with 23 receptions.

Jagade led Cleveland with 344 yards. He bulls into the line like a man trying to break down a door with his shoulder.

Motley, used in spots, gained 161 yards. He was the Browns' most potent ground weapon in last year's playoff game, won by the Lions, 17-7.

Gola And Hagan Will Match Shots Tonight
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—It's "Gola and Hagan" in tonight's championship showdown of the first annual University of Kentucky invitational basketball tournament.

The two All-Americans — La Salle's Tom Gola and Kentucky's Cliff Hagan—will match shots before an expected crowd of 12,000.

La Salle edged into the title contest with 62-53 decision over previously unbeaten UCLA Monday night and Kentucky followed with an 85-69 decision over Duke.

Gola and Hagan led their teams into the finals. Gola by scoring 23 points and Hagan by hitting for 27.

La Salle's Gola, a 6-7, 160-pounder, was runner-up to Lopat in the earned run ratings. He had a 2.72 mark on 82 earned runs in 216 frames. Billy also had the most strikeouts, 186.

Associated Press statistics released last October also listed Lopat as the earned run pace setter with 2.43 and Pierce second with 2.72.

Chicago's Virgil Trucks, who had 20 victories and 10 defeats, was third with a 2.93 mark. He was followed by Whitey Ford and Johnny Sain of New York, each with 3.00; Mickey McDermott, recently traded from Boston to Washington, 3.01; Mel Parnell of Boston, 3.06 and Mike Garcia of Cleveland, 3.24.

International Hockey League Well-Snarled
CINCINNATI (AP)—The International Hockey League was as snarled as usual today, with a scant four points or two games separating the top four teams.

The Johnstown Jets were in the lead with 36 points, three ahead of the Cincinnati Mohawks, and four points in front of Marion and Troy.

Even eighth-place Fort Wayne is within grabbing reach of the top spot. The Comets have totaled 26 points in the league race, five games out.

Fifth place Grand Rapids won both its games last week though losing a little ground in the standings. Toledo added a win and a tie for sixth place, two points behind the Rockets.

The last time Milwaukee won was Nov. 28. Since then the last place Chiefs have dropped eight games.

SANDY SIGNS
CHICAGO (AP)—Sandy Coneguera, 33-year-old right-handed pitcher, today signed for 1954 with the Chicago White Sox. The 160-pound Cuban had a 7-5 record and a .263 earned run average for Chicago in 1953.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

For the record, here's the official high school rule involved in games that go into double overtime, such as the one at Hermansville last week . . . "In games played in quarters of eight minutes or less, the length of the first extra period shall be three minutes. If the score is tied at the end of the first extra period, one or more additional extra periods of three minutes or less shall be played as follows (sometimes referred to as the "sudden end" method):

"The game is ended if a team is ahead by one point at the end of any extra period or as soon as a team scores two points (from a field goal or an accumulation of points) after the first extra period. Exception: If a foul is involved, the offended team is entitled to its free throws and if a double foul or fouls are involved and a tie score results from successful free throws, play continues until one team scores an additional point."

Milo Johnson, formerly of Watersmeet in the Upper Peninsula, is listed on the advance roster of the 1954 Detroit Tigers . . . Johnson was born 31 years ago in Manitowoc, Wis. and is a 6-1, 165 pounder . . . With Little Rock of the Southern Association last season he won 16 and lost 12 with a 3.82 ERA . . . Only one hurler on the whole list had more wins last year . . . That's Frank Lary of Buffalo who had a 17-11 mark . . . If Johnson does stay with the Tigers he'll probably be used as a reliever.

Ted Fritsch, coach of the Green Bay Catholic Central quint that will play the St. Joe Trojans here shortly after the holidays, has a fond feeling for the current Notre Dame football team . . . Four members of that team battled against his Central Catholic teams in their prep days . . . All-American halfback Johnny Latner helped Finwick of Chicago beat Central 21 to 7 in 1949; end Don Penza and his Racine St. Catherine teammates dropped a 25-0 decision to Central in 1949; and ends Dan Shannon and Paul Matz of Chicago Mt. Carmel were upset by Central 19-0 in 1951 . . . Shannon played guard in high school.

Indiana, Kentucky In I-2 Cage Poll Spots

NEW YORK (AP)—Indiana's unbeaten Hoosiers and Kentucky's Wildcats, winner of all five of their games, are still running 1-2 as the nation's leading college basketball teams.

The Hoosiers, picked in the pre-season poll as the team most likely to succeed and on top ever since, rolled up 933 points in this week's Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Kentucky, seeking to regain the No. 1 spot after a year of enforced idleness, stayed close to Indiana with 896 points and actually received more first place votes — 36 to 35.

The polls closed Monday before

Indiana beat Oregon State 76-72 in overtime for its sixth victory and Kentucky turned back Duke 85-69 for No. 5.

Duquesne, with nine first place votes and 692 points, held to third place on the basis of a 7-0 record. Illinois also remained in the fourth spot with 514 points but, after the ballots were counted, the Illini dropped their first game of the campaign. They lost to the Oklahoma Aggies (8-1) 65-60 in overtime.

The Oklahoma Aggies moved up a couple of notches to fifth and Western Kentucky (9-0) took over sixth after being 10th last week. Fordham (6-0) also jumped two places into the seventh spot.

The top 10 with first place votes in parentheses:
1. Indiana (35) 933
2. Kentucky (36) 896
3. Duquesne (9) 692
4. Illinois (5-1) 514
5. Oklahoma A&M (4) 358
6. Western Kentucky (2) 331
7. Fordham (1) 229
8. Minnesota 226
9. North Carolina State 173
10. Holy Cross (1) 159

The second 10: Rice, Oregon State, UCLA, Louisiana State, Oklahoma City, Dayton and LaSalle (tie), Wisconsin, Notre Dame and Vanderbilt and Idaho (tie).

Cousy Leads Celtics To Win Over Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics, second place in the eastern division of the National Basketball Association, defeated the Milwaukee Hawks 90-74 Monday night for their fourth victory in their last five games. It cut New York's lead to four games.

Bob Cousy scored 26 points and Bill Sharman 20 for the Celtics.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It is doubtful that the football banquet season will produce a more forthright speaker than Forest Evashevski, the Iowa coach, whose team played that memorable 14-14 tie with Notre Dame.

If the remarks attributed to him by Tom Mercy of the Flint (Mich.) Journal after a recent high school gathering in that city are a fair sample, then the former Michigan blocking back is no quibbler. He said this:

"Some football reformists on college faculties make me sick, though. Most of the ones who seem to know just what should be done to cure all our football ills are men who never played the game and don't understand the sport."

"The first thing most of them want to do is to take emphasis off winning. They list that burning desire to win as one of the evils of athletics. If you don't emphasize winning, there's only one thing left to emphasize, and that's losing. If it ever comes to that, then I'll get out. I've got a rich father-in-law, and I can always live on him.

"I'd just like to say this to you football players — the greatest thing to be learned from playing football is the desire to win. It's much easier to become a good loser than a gracious winner."

Evashevski attributed much of his team's success the past season to three Negro sophomores from Steubenville, Ohio — guard Calvin Jones, and Frank Gilliam and halfback Ed Vincent.

"I've never known any other players to have such utter disregard for bodily damage as those three," their coach declared. Evashevski related an incident during a practice scrimmage where another of his players made the mistake of looking up while going down under a punt.

"Someone guillotined him," Evy said. "I could tell he was in trouble by the wound of the impact and the snapping of bones. The boy lay on the ground writhing with pain. Jones stopped and said, 'Don't just lie there, boy; do some pushups until the doctor gets here.'"

Evashevski pointed out, however, that his team did not suffer a major injury all season, that not once was an Iowa player hurt badly enough to be kept out of action for an entire game.

No Letup For Spartan Squad

By ROBERT E. VOGES

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The Michigan State football squad is still collecting bruises while UCLA is coasting, prior to their Rose Bowl meeting New Years' Day.

MSC coach Biggie Munn staged a defensive scrimmage Monday afternoon and had another head-knocking session scheduled for Wednesday.

Fullback Gene Lekenta was butted in the face during the workout and had eight stitches taken in his lower lip.

UCLA coach Red Sanders said he planned a cut back to one-day practices after today. Munn said Michigan State would continue twice daily workouts until the end of the week.

"UCLA had good practice weather out here and is probably ahead of us in their preparations," Munn said. "We'll just have to work a little longer and harder to catch up."

The Michigan State camp, meanwhile, took on the appearance of a family party as a group of 20 wives and children of coaches and college officials arrived by train and plane from East Lansing.

The program was brought to a close with the singing of Christmas Carols by the school chorus under the direction of Peter Recque. Directing the grade school program were Mrs. Ronald Boudreau and Mrs. Earl Rost.

P. T. A. Meeting

The Garden P. T. A. held a meeting in the Catherine Bonifas School Tuesday evening. A motion to subscribe to the "National Geographic" magazine for the school library was passed upon and a recorded program of student talent was presented to the parents. The monthly home room attendance award was given to the kindergarten room. Refreshments were served by the lunch committee.

Independents Defeat Gulliver

Wally Morin scored 11 field goals and 2 free throws for a total of 24 points in leading his Garden teammates to a 68 to 50 victory over Gulliver on Sunday afternoon. Schummer led the Gulliver offense with 21 points.

Garden built up a 5 point lead in the first quarter and held on to it until half-time. A 24 point third quarter dimmed the Gulliver hopes and assured the Garden margin.

Scouts Deliver Wreaths

Members of the Garden Girl and Boy Scout troops are asked to meet at the School at 6 p. m. Wednesday. Christmas wreaths are to be delivered by the Scouts to each house in the village and then the scouts will regather at the community Christmas tree for the singing of carols. Any shut-ins who may desire to have the Scouts sing carols at their home should contact a member of the troops before 6 p. m. Wednesday.

Any contributions taken in by the Scouts during wreath deliveries will be turned over to the orphanage to aid them in their Scouting program. A pot luck lunch will terminate the evening's activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Tatrow and family have returned to their home in Garden from Kinross where Mr. Tatrow has been employed.

John LaTulip, who is employed in Adrian is visiting over the holidays at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace LaTulip.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Borga and daughters were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weber in Iron Mountain.

Garden Schools closed Friday for the holidays. Classes will resume on Monday, Jan. 4.

NOTICE OF ABANDONMENT The adoption of the following resolution was moved by Commissioner Kiasell and was supported by Commissioner Tangway.

WHEREAS, at a meeting at the Courthouse of the County of Delta on September 20, 1951, to determine damages caused in connection with the relocation of State Trunkline M35, the Delta County Road Commission did agree with the property owners of land in Sections 12 and 14, T37N, R24W, to abandon on completion of the newly relocated section of M35, that portion of County local road known as A-25 paralleling the shoreline of Green Bay, and

WHEREAS, Construction of said newly located M-35 has been completed and opened to traffic; and

WHEREAS, Provisions to compensate each property owner for the necessity of providing him or herself with alternate avenues of egress and ingress to the newly constructed modern highway have been made by the State Highway Department;

IT IS THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That that portion of former Local Road A-25, paralleling said shoreline of Green Bay be abandoned to the adjacent property owners, but that two portions leading from old M-35 to the Bay Shore be retained to serve adjacent property owners and as a Public Access Road to the Shore wherever this is possible.

So be it resolved.

Said abandoned portion being 2.0 miles more or less in length.

So be it resolved.

Ayes (3) Commissioners Norstrom, Kiasell, Tangway. Nays (0) None.

I do hereby certify that the above resolution was adopted at the meeting of the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Delta, held December 14, 1953.

Crop Production High In Michigan

LANSING (AP)—Michigan orchard and field crops production in 1953 was above average and higher than the preceding year, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service declared in a year-end summary.

The wheat crop of 44,692,000 bushels was a new record, 23 per cent higher than 1952 and 72 per cent above the average.

The corn crop was 80,262,000 bushels, the third largest record, although four per cent below the preceding year.

Beet Yield Boosted

The service said feed grain crops (corn, oats and barley) totalled 3,072,000 bushels, four per cent below 1952 but 16 per cent above average. Food grain (wheat, rye and buckwheat) was 1,365,000 bushels, 22 per cent above last year and 68 per cent above average.

The dry bean crop was estimated at 3,906,000 bags, six per cent above last year but 10 per cent below average. The soybean crop of 2,090,000 bushels was the fifth largest on record.

Sugar beets set a new yield record of 11.8 tons per acre. The production of 563,000 tons was seven per cent above 1952 but 15 per cent below the average because of reduced acreage.

Big Apple Output

Fruit production reached 429,000 tons, 18 per cent above 1952 and 17 per cent above average.

Commercial apple production was set at 8,200,000 bushels, 49 per cent larger than 1952 and 16 per cent above average.

The pear crop of 1,106,000 bushels was seven per cent more than last year and 60 per cent above the average.

The sour cherry crop was 77,000 tons, 14 per cent above 1952 and 42 per cent above average. Sweet cherries produced 8,500 tons, nine per cent below last year but 83 per cent above average.

The peach crop of 2,870,000 bushels fell 16 per cent below last year and 18 per cent below average. The grape crop was 44,500 tons, 12 per cent above 1952 and 41 per cent above average.

Soldier Convicted Of Working With Red Secret Police

BERLIN (AP)—U. S. Army Pvt. Robert D. Blevens was convicted Monday of conspiring to lure American soldiers behind the Iron Curtain and consorting with Red secret police. He was sentenced to 13 years in prison.

The 29-year-old soldier from Omaha, Neb., also was convicted by a seven-member general court martial of deserting twice to the Russian zone and breaking out of a U. S. military stockade in West Berlin.

The convictions and sentences are subject to review in the Berlin Command, U. S. Army European headquarters in Heidelberg, and in Washington.

Scientists estimate there is about twice as much nickel in the earth's crust as copper, zinc and lead combined.

Christmas Isn't Merry On Christmas Island

WASHINGTON—Despite its romantic appeal, a Christmas sojourn on either of the world's two Christmas Islands is likely to be a hot, dull occasion.

White sand and coconut palms are the nearest approaches to snow and evergreens on the Central Pacific atoll and Indian Ocean island named for the Yuletide, says the National Geographic Society. In these isolated outposts the holiday season is all but ignored.

Named By Cook

Christmas Island in the Pacific lies just north of the equator, 1,200 miles south of Hawaii. Captain James Cook, who landed there on Christmas Eve, 1777, gave the island its name.

One of the Pacific's largest atolls, Christmas is a series of low coral outcrops, covered with a layer of hard sand and scanty soil. The highest point in its 184 square miles is only eight feet above sea level.

Copra is the sole industry. The coconut groves are owned and worked entirely by the natives. Total population is less than 100.

A copra boat connecting Christmas with Fanning Island, 153 miles distant, is the island's only regular communication with the outside world. It is not a port-of-call for any steamship line.

Southern Counterpart

The other Christmas Island is a lonely British sentinel in the Indian Ocean, 900 miles northwest of Australia and 190 miles south of the west tip of Java. Southward, the expanse of ocean is unbroken for 3,500 miles to Antarctica.

The island was uninhabited until 1888 when it was annexed by Great Britain. Its name is believed to have been bestowed by the crew of an East India Company trading ship which sighted it on Christmas Day, 1643.

Peak of a submarine mountain rising from the deep bed of the ocean, Christmas is only 60 square miles in area. Its population is about 1,500. The majority are Chinese and Malays who mine the island's phosphate.

Christmas contains one of the world's largest known deposits of high-grade phosphate. More than a million tons are exported annually. Its reserve is estimated at 30 million tons.

Temperatures never drop below 75 or rise above 84 on Christmas. Thick tropical undergrowth flourishes beneath coconut and sago palms. There are no wild beasts and only a few harmless reptiles.

Large red "robber" crabs which range the island, always in groups are a major problem, however. They climb and feast on the palms and will even attack a man.

Coeds Decorate Spicy Calendars

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Thousands of men each year take a look at artistic girls on spicy calendars and sigh:

"Now, what could be prettier!"

"A college coed," screamed three 20-year-old University of New Mexico juniors in answer. "And we're quitting school to prove it."

The three, Wally Deckert of Springfield, S. D., Larry Ross of Albuquerque, and Hank Edwards of Chapel Hill, N. C., are in dead earnest. They've put out their first calendar with photos of scantily clad coeds in place of the painted long-legged beauties.

"This isn't just a crazy Joe College stunt," said Deckert, a mechanical engineering student. "We've already got our first calendar on the market here. They're going like hot cakes."

The trio had to convince the university, the parents of 11 of the 12 coeds who were under 21, and a censorship board.

"The university was tough," Deckert said. "The coeds were a cinch. The parents took some talking, but the censorship board—oh, brother!"

Armadillos normally forage at night.
